

Annotated Bibliography

Primary:

Cawley, W. K. (n.d.). Archives report: Archival research into Notre Dame history. Cushwa Center. Retrieved December 1, 2022, from <https://cushwa.nd.edu/news/researchingnotredamehistory/>

The picture on this website is a primary source that was taken in the 1890's. This source was used in the Impact section of the website.

ENR/PAZ // Marketing Communications: Web // University of Notre Dame. (n.d.). Rev. Edward Sorin, C.S.C. // de nicola center for ethics and culture // University of Notre Dame. De Nicola Center for Ethics and Culture. Retrieved November 28, 2022, from <https://ethicscenter.nd.edu/about/inspire/great-figures/rev-edward-sorin/>

This website is a secondary source that was used for the picture of “Rev. Edward Sorin C.S.C.” c. 1890. This image was used in the Background section of the website.

“From church to Basilica” C. 1849 (Marketing Communications: Web // University of Notre Dame, n.d.).

This picture is a primary source that shows the first church at the university and also shows the Golden Dome. This picture was used on the frontier page of the website.

Sorin, Edward. Chronicles of Notre Dame Du Lac. University of Notre Dame Press, 1992.

This book is a primary source that provides information on Notre Dame's background and how the University influences the it community and even worldwide. Father Edward Sorin and seven other priests were the founder of Notre Dame. This source is used in the Background and Influence pages of the website and was also used in the first paragraph of the Process Paper.

“The great fire at Notre Dame” C. 1879 (Marketing Communications: Web // University of Notre Dame, n.d.).

This picture is a primary source that depicts the before and after of the fire that burnt the Golden Dome and main building. This photo was used in the Importance section of the website.

Wack, John. Notre Dame -- Foundations: Contents. <http://archives.nd.edu/wack/wack.htm>.

Accessed 12 Oct. 2022.

This website is a primary source that provides information on the founding and creation of the University of Notre Dame. This source was used in the Background, Frontier, Impact and Influence pages of the website and was also used in the first paragraph of the Process Paper.

Secondary:

---. "About." University of Notre Dame, <https://www.nd.edu/about/>. Accessed 18 Oct. 2022.

This website is a secondary source that provides information on the beginning of the university but also provides information on how the university is currently educating its students and influencing the community. This source was used in the Background, Frontier, Impact, Influence and Importance pages of the website and was also used in the first paragraph of the Process Paper.

Marketing Communications: Web, University of Notre Dame. (n.d.). Apply. Undergraduate Admissions. Retrieved December 6, 2022, from <https://admissions.nd.edu/apply/>

This website is a secondary source that was used for the picture of Notre Dame's campus. This source was used as the background picture for all the pages of the website.

Marketing Communications: Web // University of Notre Dame. (n.d.). Timeline // Notre Dame 175 // University of Notre Dame. Notre Dame 175. Retrieved November 28, 2022, from <https://175.nd.edu/timeline/>

This website is a secondary source that is a timeline. This source was used on the timeline page of the website.

Ropeik, A. (2016, November 16). Court rules Notre Dame can keep old police records private.

WFYI.

<https://www.wfyi.org/news/articles/court-rules-notre-dame-can-keep-old-police-records-private>

This website was used for a picture of the Golden Dome at the University of Notre Dame. This picture was used on the Influence page of the website.

University Communications, University of Notre Dame. "History." University of Notre Dame, <https://www.nd.edu/about/history/>. Accessed 12 Oct. 2022.

This website is a secondary source that provides information on the history and beginning of Notre Dame. This source was used in the Background section of the website and was used in the first paragraph of the Process Paper.

"University of Notre Dame 2013." Youtube video accessed on January 12 2023

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=V8jReR9qfu0>

This video is a secondary source that is John Jenkins' speech about Notre Dame. This video was used on the Importance page of the website.

