Primary Sources

Frank, Anne. The Diary of a Young Girl, Anne Frank. Wilco Publishing House, 2009.

This book gave us direct information about what Anne did and thought while in hiding. She talked about how she felt when her dad brought up the idea of going into hiding, what happened the day of transitioning into hiding, and how her life changed after she had been in hiding. We chose three entries to use on our website.

Frank, Anne. "A Typical Day in the Secret Annex." Anne Frank Website, 13 Jan. 2020.

We used this website for a video on our Secret Annex page. We also used it to help find good information about how Anne and her family lived while in the Secret Annex. This website was very helpful to us and we are glad to get a lot of information from this website.

House, Anne Frank, director. Anne Frank's Only Existing Film Images, Youtube.

This primary source was one of our videos on our website. We chose to add this video to our Anne Frank page. This video is very interesting and is our favorite site that we used throughout our project. By adding this source it creates a nice visual on our Anne Frank page

House, Anne Frank, director. Miep Gies. Anne Frank Website, 21 Dec. 2020.

We used this video to describe how Anne's loved ones felt after getting the news that Anne and Margot had perished at the Bergen-Belsen Concentration camp. This video also expresses the legacy of Anne Frank.

Secondary Sources

Adolf Hitler Quotes (Author of Mein Kampf).” Goodreads 2021.

We used this website to find quotes by Adolf Hitler. All of his quotes sounded very selfish and it was clear that all he cared about was his own power. We used the quotes because it demonstrated his personality well.

“Anne Frank.” The British Library, 6 Jan. 2006.

This website gave us an overview of Anne’s life. It was helpful because we got a general idea of the big events in her life, and it increased our knowledge on Anne Frank as a person. This website also gave details about the Holocaust which helped us on the Holocaust page on our website.

“Bergen-Belsen Concentration Camp.” Frank Falla Archive, 2021.

We used this website for the Concentration Camp page. It helped us a lot to learn how Anne and her sister lived in the Bergen-Belson concentration camp. It gave us the insights about how bad Anne and her sister Margot’s conditions were after being put in the concentration camp.

Chorale, Larimer. ANNELIES: STORY OF ANNE FRANK.

This site helped us when finding a picture for our Anne's diary page. We came across these pictures when searching for information and decided to put it on the Anne’s Diary page of our website.

Combs, Sydney. A Cold Case Team Is Searching for Who Betrayed Anne Frank. 5 Nov. 2020.

This website is where we found one of our pictures that was used on our Anne Frank page. This picture is of Anne Frank. This picture is from the National Geographic website. This picture is a nice addition to our website and makes it look professional.

DiLonardo, Mary Jo. Why People Are Turning to Anne Frank's Diary. 15 Apr. 2020.

This source helped us with our impact page. It gave us information about many ways people were impacted by Anne's Diary. It showed us the way people reacted and what they thought about Anne Frank's diary. It also told us about how much success that Anne Frank's diary had in the future.

Heller, Chris. How Anne's Diary Changed the World. 12 Nov. 2015.

This website was very helpful to us. We used it for a picture and for information. We did not put the information on the website, but we bettered our knowledge on our topic.

"The Holocaust." United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, 12 Mar. 2018.

This site was very helpful for figuring out information about the Holocaust. It had a lot of our main information that we put on the website. I looked at this website because of how much useful information it had.

Horner, Erin. "Anne Frank: Life at the Bergen-Belsen." Norswell Schools, 2016.

We used this website on our Bergen-Belsen concentration camp page because it had lots of information about what Anne's life was like there at the concentration camp. It talked about the conditions Anne and the other Jews were put through. Anne sadly died at the Bergen-Belsen concentration camp and this site helped us understand why and how.

House, Anne Frank. "How Unique Was the Secret Annex? People in Hiding in the Occupied Netherlands." Anne Frank Website, 23 Sept. 2019.

This website is where we got some information for our Secret Annex page. We took a quote directly from the website. The quote was about the Secret Annex and comparing it to staying in a guesthouse.

House, Anne Frank. "Miep Gies." Anne Frank Website, 23 Sept. 2019.

This secondary source told us about who was in hiding and who was all behind the plan of hiding in the secret Annex. Miep Gies was one of the few who helped hide Anne and four other people in the Secret Annex. This site really helped us understand some of the questions we had about her life in the Secret Annex.

House, Anne Frank. The Secret Annex.

This source was used for information on our group website. This website contained information about the Secret Annex. From this website we learned when and who they went into hiding with. We also found out where they were hiding.

House, Anne Frank. "The Secret Annex." Anne Frank Website, 15 June 2020.

This source was from the Anne Frank house page about the Secret Annex. We got most of our general information about the secret annex. This website had so much good information and was very helpful when learning about Anne Frank.

House, Anne Frank. "Who Was Anne Frank?" Anne Frank Website, 5 Jan. 2021.

This secondary source was useful because it provided us with big times in Anne's life. We used this information on our Anne Frank page. This page helped us because it gave us information to put on our timeline, and we used it to describe Anne's life.

Media, Nexstar. The Holocaust. 14 Oct. 2020.

We used this site for one of our Holocaust pictures. This site also had some information about the holocaust but we did not use the information on our website. We now just have more information in our brains for knowledge.

"Star of David." Encyclopædia Britannica, Encyclopædia Britannica, Inc., 2011.

This secondary source is where we got our picture of the Star of David. This picture went on our Holocaust page next to information about the star. This picture was helpful because it gave us a visual to put with our information about the Star of David.

Stone, Dan. "Why Did Hitler Not Like the Jews?" Holocaust Matters, 3 Apr. 2019.

We used this website for our Holocaust page. This site helped us to answer one of many questions people have when learning about the Holocaust. That question is, why did it happen? We wanted to know why Hitler chose to target the Jews and why he did what he did and now we know because of this secondary source.

States, United. United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, 2020.

We used this website on our Holocaust page. It gave us some really good information about the star of David. I really liked this website because we did not really know that much about that Star of David.

Tikkanen, Amy. Anne Frank. 28 Aug. 2017.

We used this source for one of our pictures. This picture was used on our home page. It is a picture of Anne Frank, and was helpful because it gives a visual on what our website will be about.
