

Annotated Bibliography

Primary:

“Amelia Earhart Crosses U.S. in Non-Stop Flight.” Newspapers.Com, 25 Aug. 1932, <https://www.newspapers.com/clip/2553512/amelia-earhart-crosses-us-in-non-stop/>.

Accessed 15 Nov. 2022

This primary source is a newspaper article that has information about Amelia Earhart's flight across the Atlantic Ocean. This source was used in the first paragraph of the process paper and on the website in the Frontier and Background sections.

“Amelia Earhart In Front of Plane” c 1932 (History.com Editors)

This image is a primary source that depicts Amelia Earhart standing in front of her plane. This source can be found on the home page of the website.

“Amelia Earhart's Talk at I. U.” 1936 ([CSL STYLE ERROR: reference with no printed form.])

This primary source is a picture of a newspaper article of Amelia Earhart going to I. U. to give a speech. This image can be found on the influence section on the website.

“Amelia Earhart with aviation students at Purdue University” 1936 (“One Life: Amelia Earhart”)

This image is a primary source that depicts Amelia Earhart sitting on top of a plane with Purdue University female aviation students. This image can be found on the importance section of the website.

“Clipping from The Bristol Daily Courier.” Newspapers.Com, 3 July 1937,

<https://www.newspapers.com/clip/2730205/the-bristol-daily-courier/>. Accessed 15 Nov.

2022.

This primary source is a newspaper article that has information about Amelia Earhart’s disappearance. This source was used in the first paragraph of the process paper and on the website in the importance section.

“Earhart Arrives in Culmore, Northern Ireland” 1932 (“Earhart Arrives in Culmore, Northern Ireland”)

This primary source is an image of Amelia Earhart landing after her flight across the Atlantic Ocean. This image was used in the Impact section of the website.

Secondary:

Biography. “Amelia Earhart - First Woman To Fly Alone.” YouTube, Video, 3 Feb. 2015, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ivbh9vEkp1g>. Accessed 25 Jan. 2023.

This secondary source is a YouTube video that has information about Amelia Earhart’s whole life. This source was used in the frontier section of the website.

“Biography: Amelia Earhart.” National Women’s History Museum,

<https://www.womenshistory.org/education-resources/biographies/amelia-earhart>.

Accessed 16 Nov. 2022.

This secondary source is a website article that has information about how Amelia Earhart was inspirational for women, awards that she has received, and the books she has written. This source is used in the process paper in the first paragraph and in the website in the Impact and Influence sections.

“Cream Color” (“Frosting Cream Information”)

This secondary source is an image of a solid cream color that provides no information.

This source was used in the background of the frontier, background, impact, influence, importance, timeline, process paper, and annotated bibliography sections of the website.

Doyle, Carmel. “What Led Amelia Earhart to Become an Aviator? - Discovery.” Silicon

Republic, 24 July 2012,

<https://www.siliconrepublic.com/science/what-led-amelia-earhart-to-become-an-aviator>.

Accessed 2 Nov. 2022.

This website article is a secondary source that provides information about Amelia Earhart's childhood. This source can be found in the background section of the website.